(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, O., July 11.—Wilmington police today announced the arrest of George McCoy, 25, of near Ironton, and Chester Baldwin, 28, of near Portsmouth, in connection with the disappearance of 18-year-old Marion Buckley, Cleveland co-ed, and daughter of a Cleveland school official.

The two men, who claim to have given a "hit" last Monday to a girl hitch-hiker answering Marion's description, are held for investigation.

Stories Conflict

Police Chief Ben South ordered the pair taken into custody when it was discovered, he said, "the stories they told about seeking a girl hitch-hiker didn't correspond."

McCoy told Ironton police last week that he gave a ride to a girl hitch-hiker whom he met in Ironton as she was walking through the streets of that city. The girl said she was bound for Ashland, Ky., McCoy said. He related that he took her to Coal Grove, O., near the Ohio river, and that she continued into Kentucky.

At that time, according to police, (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW C OBSERVES

If you're up in any of the public square buildings in the new post-office neighborhood, take an air view of Uncle Sam's future home here. From a high point you can better appreciate the size of the building.

Another popular summer retreat for boys of the district, Camp Fred L. Rantz of the Y. M. C. A., was opened for the season today.

Dust on New Castle's dirt streets seemed to have greater opposition from neighborhood forces this summer than for many a year. At least there's plenty of evidence about that oil was used to keep dirt down.

New Castle's school teachers are represented this summer at many of the vacation schools which the larger universities conduct. They will be kept busy up until about the school opening date in the fall.

A visit to local rail yards reveals the fact that business is much improved. Where a few months ago, one could see but a single engine or two puffing about, a black haze hangs over the rail yards, as puffing engines spit soot into the air.

New Castle residents who haven't been in Gaston Park for a couple of years are surprised at the work that has been done in this park, and the improved appearance, on visits this summer. It is certainly a municipal park that is a credit to the city.

Stone work on the wall construction of the new federal building on the public square is beginning to rear its top above the high fence that surrounds the construction. It will not be long until spectators will surround the scene again, as the work can be watched from the outside.

JOBS FOR MILLIONS U. S. PROGRAM AIM

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Millions of jobs for now idle workers is the first objective of the $3,300,000,000 public works program, secretary of the interior Harold I. Ickes newly appointed director of public works said today in explaining the policies he will follow.

He promised swift action.

"Recent gratifying gains in industry do not justify curtailment or slowing up of the employment program until those gains are secured and consolidated. When conditions justify, expenditures for public works will be ended promptly," he said.

This is interpreted here as a reply to demands from some of President Roosevelt's close advisers, including Director of the Budget Lewis Douglas, that the program be hedged somewhat in view of the already visible improvement.

Begin Planning For 'Managed' Currency At President's Order

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The process of stabilizing the American dollar at home was begun today under President Roosevelt's direction. Preliminary studies designed to evolve ways and means of effecting the desired result were under two new appointees of the president, Professors James H. Rogers of Yale and George Frederick Warren of Cornell.

The pair was named by the executive ostensibly as "coordinators" and publicly charged with studies of the budget. They began work with offices in the commerce department building.

Domestic stabilization of the dollar was fixed as Mr. Roosevelt's goal when he refused to join an international agreement for currency stabilization. At that time it was declared that the president was not too seriously concerned with the quotation of the dollar abroad. He believes stabilization begins at home. And he wants the dollar made stable here and protected against domestic fluctuation by tying it firmly to basic American commodities.

To this end he named Rogers and Warren to work together. Rogers is an expert in markets and credits, (Continued On Page Two)

His mother-in-law, Mrs. Harvey Woods; his brother-in-law, Harry Woods; and a sister-in-law, Miss Vivian Woods, all of Middletown were taken to the Salem City hospital.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., July 11.—It is certainly gratifying to read about one conference that got somewhere. The Navajo Indians held a conference and decided that they could get along without the services of about 25 white office holders that had been appointed to help look after them. The Indians said they were doing it to save the white man money.

Who said the Indian didn't have any humor?

The London Conference votes today to see if they meet tomorrow. If they meet tomorrow it will be to find a reason to split up to keep from meeting the next day. Then we send white people to take care of the Navajos.

(International News Service)
NORTH HAVEN, Me., July 11.—Fog again today hung over this little island, 15 miles off Rockland, threatening to balk Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from continuing their air mapping tour over Greenland, Labrador and Iceland.

The low winged monoplane bobbed on the calm waters of a cove near the summer home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh, ready for the second leg of the flight from New York to Halifax, N. S.

After repairing a damaged cable to the pontoon-equipped red monoplane, the "flying colonel" and his wife spent the night with Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the flier and their 11 months old son, Jon.

It was Lindbergh's intention to continue today to Halifax.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—Irritation expressed at the delay in setting up state organizations for the Home Owners Loan Corporation in the northern states brought from Chairman William F. Stevenson of South Carolina, chairman of the Home Loan Board, today the statement that the board was proceeding "actively in order to get the best men available for the places."

Particularly were protests made from Pennsylvania where thousands of home owners were said to have been threatened with foreclosures. Stevenson expressed the hope that the organization would be completed in the Keystone state soon that money provided under the new law might be available to save the situation.

The act provides more than $2,000,000,000 for the relief of small home owners whose properties are mortgaged.

AWAIT PERMIT FROM RUSSIANS

(International News Service)
NOME, Alaska, July 11.—The airplane of William Alexander and his three companions, en route to Anadir, Siberia, to rescue Jimmy Mattern, globe-trotting flier, arrived here early today from Juneau.

Pending official permission from Russia, Alexander and his companions will wait here. They hope to get away today, however, on the last leg of the perilous journey to the point in Siberia where Mattern crashed.

The distance from Nome to Anadir is approximately 300 miles.

Walla Walla, Wash., July 11.—Mrs. James "Jimmy" Mattern, wife of the intrepid world flier was confident today Jimmy would get a plane and resume his solo flight around the world from the Bleak Anadir district of Siberia where he crashed several weeks ago.

"I am sure that Jimmy will continue his solo flight to Alaska and on around, if possible in any way," Mrs. Mattern said when told of William Alexander's takeoff for Siberia in a rescue plane. "I will be greatly surprised if he flies back with anyone. When he sets his mind on these record attempts he goes through with it."

Secrecy Surrounds Roosevelt Divorce Plans At Reno, Nev.

Expect Wife Of Son Of President To File Cross Complaint To Charges

(International News Service)
RENO, Nev., July 11.—While the time, place and method of the Elliott Roosevelt divorce remain more or less a secret, it was learned today from reliable sources that Mrs. Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt probably will file an answer and cross complaint to the complaint by the son of the president, which is expected to be filed within the next week.

Should this procedure be adopted, Mrs. Roosevelt could take the divorce without appearing personally, merely mailing her testimony in support of whatever charge is contained in her cross-complaint.

Young Roosevelt would only have to appear in court long enough to establish the fact that he has been a bona fide resident of Nevada for more than six weeks.

The heavy vacation tourist traffic through New Castle these days leads one to believe the depression is on the wane. For a sample of it, within a block of each other downtown today, there were luggage-laden cars carrying a New Jersey, Florida, South Carolina, Iowa and an Illinois license.

City Engineers Prepare The Plans For Cedar Street Resurfacing

LEGAL PHASES TO BE EXPLAINED

Survey of the proposed extension to the Euclid avenue storm sewer has been completed and engineers today commenced to draft plans for the contemplated resurfacing of Cedar street.

The foregoing are two of a number of improvements proposed by the city, providing the city receives financial aid from the government as proposed by the federal recovery act.

Council yesterday requested that the city solicitor Robert White confer informally with them and explain the legal phases of the act.

Today Director of Improvements Treser said that in the meantime the city engineers will proceed and that when the time arrives the plans will be in readiness.

Federal recovery act provides that when the request for aid is made, it must be accompanied by the necessary local legislation and a complete set of plans.

Director Treser does not believe there will be great difficulty in securing aid from the government, though naturally, some time must elapse before the request can be made.

There will be a Baby Health contest, a special entertainment, and a program of sports. Dr. Simon Skole, president of the Edgewood City lodge, is general chairman of the big affair.

before he came to a decision on this point. Once a deadline is set, it was indicated, the margin of time would be only sufficient for the industries concerned to show their intentions.

"So far I can't kick about any one industry," Johnson said. "They are busy trying to get things going."

Coal Industry Code Problem

The difficulties of the coal operators, however, are causing him concern, he said, and warned that he would ask them to bring their various codes to him and have them ironed out very shortly, if they fail on an agreement. There are four such codes pending, from as many coal groups.

Closely related to Johnson's plans was a conference between Attorney General Cummings and the president, in which the latter sought counsel on the legal aspects of the problem of speeding the codifying of industry.

The full powers of the anti-trust laws will be brought against recalcitrants. This is expected to have a hastening effect on any groups inclined to remain out of line, since the Recovery Act codes specifically modify the provisions of these laws against the industries operating under codes.

Back of these positive moves is a reflection of the president's feeling since the failure of the European economic efforts. He is believed to be determined to make America a self-sufficient economic unit, through the medium of the recovery program.

Any obstacle to this aim is likely to get short shrift, in the opinion of informed observers.

Aged Banker Kidnaped

Alton, Ill., July 11.—Underworld haunts of Southern Illinois were the object of a desperate search today for August Luer, 78, (millionaire banker, who was kidnaped from his home here last night.

The aged banker was seized by two men and a woman who entered his palatial home in the residential district through a ruse.

Preparing to retire, Mr. Luer answered a knock at the door, his wife told police.

Two men and a woman stood there and one of the men said, "We are trying to get in touch with Henry Buse. Can you help us?"

As Luer stepped to the phone one of the men and the woman seized him. The other man seized Mrs. Luer and thrust her into a closet after choking and beating her.

Luer was lifted by the two men, carried out the front door, and placed in a car waiting at the curb. A third man was in the car.

The kidnap car sped away in the direction of East St. Louis, police were told. It was reported that a second car, containing more members of the kidnap gang, followed the first automobile.

Demand Huge Ransom

Albany, July 11.—Three days of complete silence on the part of his captors today surrounded John J. O'Connell, Jr., 24-year old nephew of the Albany county Democratic leaders, who was kidnaped Friday morning and held in $250,000 ransom.

Since the kidnapers made their demand for the largest ransom ever asked in the United States, they have had no further communication with either Edward J. or Daniel P. O'Connell, political powerful uncles of the missing youth.

The last letter, received Saturday afternoon by Daniel O'Connell, stated the kidnapers would get in touch with him Monday.

Relatives of the husky young athlete and National Guard lieutenant kept anxious vigil throughout yesterday and until dawn today, but in vain.

Throughout the long ordeal, the O'Connells declined to make any statement to press or police and they failed to employ the powerful political machinery at their command, lest some harm comes to Young O'Connell.

U. S. to Aid Officials

Washington, July 11.—All facilities of the Department of Justice were directed today in the search for the kidnapers of John J. O'Connell Jr., of Albany, abducted and held for $250,000 ransom.

A telegraphic report was received on the kidnaping by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, Agents of the bureau assigned to the Albany district were detailed on the case at once while other operatives from New York City were ordered to the scene.

The ideal bathing suit is one that will make a man turn to look at other women and not be ashamed of his own.

With me...my cigarette is a personal, intimate thing

I suppose, men would call my reason for liking Luckies just a feminine whim. Maybe it is, but it's a whim that I love to indulge...for I am always conscious of the intimate relationship between my cigarette and my lips. And if there's anything I'm sensitive about, it's that feeling of feminine daintiness. Certainly, Luckies Please! I can well understand why men praise Luckies' fine tobacco character and mellow-mildness—but as for me—I value particularly the assurance of purity which "Toasting" brings—for, with me...my cigarette is a personal, intimate thing.

LOUISE IS HAPPY.
I've just heard about Louise.
And what I heard makes me feel sort of sorry.
If you knew Louise, you'd understand completely.
I knew her a few years ago, when she went to school with my sister. A little thing. Pretty. An only daughter of parents who adored her and protected her and would have been glad to have her "stay at home". . . . She went through school and became a teacher and I didn't see her again. . . . I heard she was married to a sea-going chief engineer, and that she'd had a baby. And that's all I knew.
But yesterday I heard what had happened to her and what she and her husband are doing. . . . I saw some snapshots. . . . She's living, she and her husband and their baby, in a log cabin that he built on some government land in the Sierras. He quit the sea. They have a fur farm, with long-haired rabbits and mink. They live there all the year round. It's pretty in spring, summer and fall, but it's tough in winter and hard work all the seasons of the year. . . . It snows. It snows high, thick and heavy, clear to the eaves of the house sometimes. They have to shovel their way to the pens to keep the rabbits alive, to feed them. . . . They don't see anybody, they're living the way their grandfathers and grandmothers lived.
Louise doesn't wear pretty dresses any more. She doesn't go to teas and dances. . . . She wears trousers and high leather boots. She goes on skis. I saw a snapshot of Louise sitting in her doorway with the snow three feet deep in front of her, an apron over her trousers, holding a fat, healthy, naked baby on her lap. I saw other pictures of Louise and her husband smiling, and they were good to see. My sister tells me that Louise is completely happy. She likes it there, with her husband and her baby, and has everything she wants. She doesn't think of herself as brave or unselfish or adventuresome. This is what she wants to do—and it's SWELL.

That's the way we all ought to be—brave without knowing it, bold without banners, strong without comparing ourselves with others, happy without thinking how wonderful we are to be so wonderfully happy. Then everything would be swell!

CIRCULATING UNPLEASANTNESS
As a purveyor of unfavorable stories about acquaintances and those you call friends, are you not rather careless about learning whether or not they are true stories?
The more surprisingly derogatory, the quicker you seize it to tell. You don't seem to wish to circulate the good stories.
You grasp avidly everything that besmirches reputation, don't you? You eagerly start scandal on its way but it angers you when asked for proof of your statements.
You refuse to retract or admit that you might be mistaken.
Why do you get so much satisfaction in circulating unpleasantness?
There must be much impure in your own makeup, isn't that true? Straight and honorable folk give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt before repeating unkind things and even when they know they are true, try to forget the unfavorable gossip and remember the good if they can.
It is much more charitable and adds greatly to your credit if it can be said of you that you don't repeat gossip and never tell stories that are detrimental to those of whom you speak.
Do you know what folk are saying of you at this moment?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

UNCONTROLABLE

Selwyn, the wit, once declared at a dinner that no woman could ever write a letter without adding a postscript.
"Nonsense," said Lady Garvice. "My very next letter shall refute it."
Within a week, Selwyn received a missive from Lady Garvice. And below her signature, she had written: "P. S. Who is right now, you or I?"

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE KILLDEER
The killdeer, nesting on the ground, A method to battle foes has found, And in a most ingenious way Off leads the curious boy astray; Out with its very plaintive cry Attracts the heedless passerby And, feigning broken wing, she'll lure His feet to leave her nest secure. I've watched her often. As I neared Her nesting spot she appeared Fluttering upon the ground; her wing Apparently a useless thing, Enticing me by sham and cry To catch a bird who cannot fly, And tricking me, unharmed to pass Her nest deep hidden in the grass.
I'll venture trickery such as that Has oft outwitted many a cat. But what I wonder is: Who taught The wily killdeer such a ruse? So neat a way to cheat her foes? Who told her this: where dangers lurk The broken-wing defense will work? (Copyright, 1933, Edgar A. Guest)

POSTAL RECEIPTS ARE STILL GROWING

REPORTS of postal receipts from fifty selected offices in various parts of the country show an increase of more than 13 per cent over June of last year. Only two of the offices registered decreases, while all the others were on the right side of the ledger. Philadelphia improved to the extent of more than seven per cent, while New York and Chicago were among those making the highest gains.
The post office is rightly regarded as a barometer of business, and these increases indicate a steady improvement in trade. The increase in the first-class postage rate had the effect of decreasing receipts for a time, but the June reports prove that conditions are gradually getting better particularly in the large centers of population. July should be even better from the standpoint of the postal authorities. The resumption of two-cent postage for local purposes is sure to induce further use of the mails.

LYNCHINGS

Although there was one more lynching in the United States in the first six months of this year than in the same period last year, the situation with respect to mob law has some encouraging features.
The total of six this year is nine less than the total 10 years ago, according to figures compiled by Tuskegee Institute. This represents a distinct advance for the cause of justice as opposed to mob law.
That part of the report showing the prevention by the constituted authorities of 14 lynchings involving 17 persons is another feature of the report that deserves special attention. It shows that the officers not only had the proper understanding of their duties but that they were diligent in performing them.
The fact that lynching has not kept proportionate pace with other forms of major law violations seems to indicate that the war on this crime is making gratifying progress. No let-up in the drive should be permitted.
There is no proper place in a civilized land for mob action. A spotless record is the objective to be sought. Even if this is never attained, the work in its behalf will have yielded highly creditable results.

WORLD RECOVERY

The German Institute of Business Research is convinced that the present upturn in business represents no temporary improvement but marks the definite and continuing recovery of the world from the slump.
Among the factors on which it bases its conclusions is the rise in world industrial production figures. With 1928 representing 100 in its index, it finds that production in April of this year reached a high mark of 76.5 after having touched the low of 69.1 in July, 1932. The previous high was 75.1 in December, 1932, followed by a drop to 69.9 in March. The fact that this drop did not extend below the previous low indicated, to the institute's experts, that the 69.1 level represented the real bottom of the depression.
"Pessimistic fears produced by the surrender of the gold standard in the United States have not been confirmed by recent developments," said the institute. "The drop of the dollar may depress markets and prices outside the United States but a resumption of the decline is not to be expected."
The greatest danger at present, it believes, lies in new political disturbances. If these do not develop, it says, a continued rise is to be expected.
The institute's survey is subject to error, of course, but its conclusions find support in observable conditions in the United States and other nations.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP

Textile operators in voluntary proposing obligation of child labor have made a revolutionary move in this industry. One of the most serious charges long standing against textile operators has been ruthless exploitation of child labor.
While there probably was exaggeration of conditions in the attacks made against them, it nevertheless was a fact that numerous child workers were to be found in cotton mills, many of them being children of very young years. Chief responsibility, of course, rested upon the parents, but it was charged that such low wages were paid it was necessary for families to put their children to work in order to find support for them.
The decision to bar from factories in the future, under the textile industrial code, children under 16 years of age, was made by T. M. Marchant, president of the Cotton Manufacturers' association. "Our cotton textile industry," he said at the hearing before Administrator Johnson, "believes that it would be helpful to the broad movement, if the administrator is agreeable, to put an express provision in the cotton textile code that the employment of minors under 16 years of age be not permitted during the emergency."
The administrator not only was agreeable but congratulated the cotton manufacturers upon their stand. The emergency period which the code will cover is two years. The probability of the prohibition becoming a permanent policy in the industry, however, is strong, especially if the code experiment proves successful.

Fair Bread Prices Demanded In Debate On Wheat Market

Warning From Secretary Of Agriculture Leads To General Analysis Of Prices And Rights Of Consumers In Relation To Production

Considerable support of the demand of the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Wallace, that increase in the price of bread be kept within reasonable limits is indicated in the public discussion. Dollar wheat is generally declared beneficial to the country, but the Iowa estimate of a 60 per cent rise in the price of the baker's product is sharply debated. "The Administration fears, and the fear appears justified," according to the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION, "that if prices to consumers jump ahead of increases in total wage payments, it will not be possible to find an outlet for enhanced production." THE NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE comments: "The rise of prices on commodities is one of the symptoms of economic recovery. But the hoist of prices in anticipation of commodity-price advances or before the later have been translated into manufacturing costs and enlarged purchasing power is not so easily justified. On the contrary, it savors of speculative greed. . . . Secretary Wallace's warning that it will not be tolerated in the bread market probably will be extended to the other commodity markets as the need develops." THE BUTTE MONTANA STANDARD holds that "with a better degree of prosperity for the farmer, one thing is sure—household costs are going to rise, and we shall hear again in the land those plaintive inquiries out of the past regarding the H. C. of L."

It is estimated by the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM that "the wheat processing tax of 30 cents a bushel will amount to 483 of a cent for a pound loaf of bread." That paper comments: "While the tax is to be collected from the miller and other manufacturer converting the wheat into the food product, it like all other similar taxes will be passed on to the consumer. But the addition of less than half a cent to each loaf of bread should not prove onerous to the consumer of small means. The widespread benefits resulting from the high price of wheat under the government plan should more than outweigh this trivial increase. With the general improvement, the condition of the consumer should be bettered along with that of the wheat grower and others. If the price of bread should jump skyward in succeeding months, it would be due to factors other than the wheat processing tax."

"The Iowa incident," says the HARTFORD TIMES, "shows that when wheat goes up one cent a pound, flour goes up two and bread goes up three. That paper advises that 'Uncle Sam will have to be unusually alert and work overtime if he is to keep his eye on price boosting.' THE AKRON BEACON JOURNAL goes further, and, observing the crop conditions, asks: 'Why burden the public with the added weight of taxation?' THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE argues that 'the thing to do now is to see that prices do not get out of line; that actual increases in costs of furnishing products to the public are reflected in retail, but that much and no more.'

Announcing that "the bread question has several aspects," the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL suggests: "The Iowa bakers were somewhat premature in announcing offhand that they would raise the price of bread from 5 to 8 cents. Wallace reminds them that combinations in restraint of trade are still unlawful. On the other hand, the price of wheat has been on the up-surge for weeks. Flour has been doubled in price. If bakers have not yet raised the price of bread, they are entitled to put up the price to some extent. Flour apparently is not the determining factor in the cost of bread. It constitutes a small item in the cost of the loaf. This is not true probably of old-fashioned home-made bread, which, owing to greatly altered social conditions, is not used by many American families."

"It is the theory of the Administration plan of recovery as a whole," asserts the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "that the solution of the present problem lies in lifting the price level." And The Bulletin concludes: "There is no justification for extortion in boosted prices. There can be no plea made for the profiteer. But it is pertinent to note at the beginning of this great experiment that Government regulation of commodity prices, direct Government price-fixing, is the logical and almost inescapable sequence of Government control and regulation of the processes of production."

"It is as well," in the judgment of the WALL STREET JOURNAL, "that the relation between the costs of wheat and bread should be determined. The baking industry probably is as anxious to have a clear-cut decision as anyone else. Five years ago, the Federal Trade Commission made a full report on the profits in flour and bread. In it the cost of bread was made up of 26.7 per cent for flour, 14.5 per cent for other ingredients, 25.4 per cent for manufacture and 33.4 per cent for sales and administration. Some private authorities would put the average cost of the flour at 30 per cent, but, even so, other things than flour would make up 70 per cent of the cost of a loaf. An inquiry, therefore, will have to consider much more than the cost of a pound of flour. Here is something to be remembered when an application for a code for the milling and baking industries comes under the advisement. If millers and bakers are to give employment to more labor they must be permitted to make a profit in their operations, and it must be remembered that a baker's retail prices are quoted in pennies."

The effect of the improvement in the wheat market is a subject of wide-spread discussion. The PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL says: "Dollar wheat! It's hope; it's courage; it's assurance to millions. Out in the farm homes, it's prosperity come back. Dollar wheat is what the farmer was looking for and hoping for 100 years ago. Old men were farm lads in their boyhood heard the farmer hoping for dollar wheat. They saw the farmer planning to hold his wheat for a dollar a bushel and planning to sell when it reached that figure. Fifty years ago, dollar wheat was the slogan of the farmer, the hope of the miller, the prayer of the tradesman who knew that dollar wheat meant more business, more sales of his goods, more luxury for his family, more profits on his investment. To be sure, there were times when the dollar 'was exceeded, but always the farmer clung to tight dollar as a price basis. When the dollar has money, the world has money. The farmer's buying power is the basis of all buying power. His buying power is new wealth. It comes out of the ground, from the fertile soil. It is home-made and a new contribution to the world's stock of wealth. It is profit not made from a commission, or a percentage, or a graft. And that means that dollar wheat is a source of new dollars."

Steel Industry Works On Code

Industry Working Out Trade Practice Code For Submission To Johnson

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 11.—The steel industry is working out a trade practice code for operation under the national recovery act as rapidly as possible. Myron Taylor, chairman of the board of the U. S. Steel Corporation told President Roosevelt Monday.

Reports that the industry had submitted several codes to Hugh S. Johnson, industrial recovery administrator, and that they had been turned down were minimized by Taylor.

"There is no real difference of opinion on the code between the industry and the administration," he said. "It is a matter of phraseology only and that is being worked out as swiftly as possible. We are very friendly to the industrial recovery act."

Many Of Hollywood Couples Long Married

By HARRISON CARROLL
International News Service Special Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 11.—With separations breaking right and left, Hollywood gossips scarcely know upon what couple to bestow the mythical title of filmland's ideal marriage.

Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., led the way to the divorce courts, then Sue Carol and Nick Stuart, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dix and Carole Lombard and Bill Powell admitted marital discord.

Of the couples who remain happily wed, the outstanding candidates. For the title, perhaps, are Mildred Davis and Harold Lloyd. They took the vows in 1923 and the union has survived, practically without rumors of a rift.

Many Are Happy
Of course, peace reigns in various other cinema households. There are, for instance, Betty and Will Rogers who have hit it off successfully for 25 years now. Winifred Bryson and Warner Baxter said "I Do" in 1915; Louise Treadwell and Spencer Tracy nearly 11 years ago; Flo Bert and El Brendel, nine years ago; via Anderson and Jean Harlow, in 1913; Norma Shearer and Irving Thalberg, in 1927; Elizabeth Allen and Bob Montgomery, eight years ago; Mildred Evelyn and Olive Brook, in 1920; Jobyna Ralston and Dick Arlen, in 1927; Florence Eldridge and Frederic March, in 1927; Burns and Allen, seven years ago; Ida Tobias and Eddie Cantor, in 1914; Dolores Costello and John Barrymore, in 1928; Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, in 1930; Ruby Keeler and Al Jolson, in 1928; and lots of others just as far back.

But who deserved the title? and it is fair to put a possible jinx on a happy marriage by awarding it? Hollywood doesn't know.

Salvation Army Is Making Progress

Appeal Is Gaining Force As People Respond To Call For Gifts

The appeal of the Salvation Army for $3,000 with which to pay off its indebtedness of the past two years, when it has made no appeal and for sufficient additional funds with which to carry on its work in the coming year, is gradually gaining momentum.

Owing to the vacation season of the year, there has been a limit to the number of workers that has so far been secured for canvassing purposes and those who have not yet been called upon for a gift and desire to give something for the cause are requested to send it to Ensign Fred Goggard, at 133 Water street or John D. Kennedy, treasurer, People's Savings and Trust Company.

In spite of the handicap of meager funds, the Army has been carrying on an efficient and helpful work for the unfortunate people of the community and it is hoped that there will be sufficient response to meet the present and future requirements of the Army.

BEAVER JUDGE RULES ON LICENSE LAW

BEAVER, Pa., July 11.—Judge Frank E. Reader Monday held the Pennsylvania beverage license act does not permit the county treasurer to issue licenses after June 1. The opinion was on the appeal of Harry Karas, Ambridge, whose application for a retailer's license was refused by County Treasurer F. R. ## Predicts South Will Vote Repeal

Senator Royal S. Copeland, New York, Says Roosevelt Has Swung Southern States

THREE STATES TO VOTE NEXT WEEK

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 11.—The Democratic states of the solid south will unhold the Democratic national platform and vote for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, Senator Royal S. Copeland (D) of New York, predicted today.

Copeland declared Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee would show the way next week by ratifying the pending amendment to the federal constitution, repealing prohibition. He added "probably" in the case of Arkansas.

President Roosevelt's appeal to Democrats in the south to support the party platform declaration for prohibition repeal, said Copeland, would decide the issue. He predicted the south would "stand by the president and the Democratic party."

Camp Rentz Welcomes First Campers Today

Out for one grand time of their young lives, a half-hundred New Castle Y. M. C. A. boys this afternoon were settling down to a healthy outdoor life for the next few weeks on the beautiful 26-acre plot of ground along the Slippery Rock creek that forms Camp Fred L. Rentz.

Private automobiles, volunteered by fathers and friends of the boys, whisked the happy lot to the Scott township site, out beyond Harlansburg about 10 o'clock this morning. Until late in July the Y boys will revel in the life that only campers know, while 40 underprivileged boys of New Castle will relish the treat the week after the Y boys leave.

Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, camp director, assisted by six older boy counselors, all veteran campers, welcomed the youngsters as they reached the camp gate this morning. MacNicholas and the counselors and other workmen had spent the most of last week making preparations for the opening, and tents and the dining lodge were in tip-top shape when the caravan of boys arrived.

Health Not Forgotten. Registration and a thorough health check were the very first duties that confronted the lads as they unloaded their bags for a stay. "Weighting-in," the period when the weight and health condition of each boy is filed, and "weighting-out," the same period at the close of the season, are the first and last procedures every season. Weights are recorded to determine poundage gains.

The Y announced today that Wednesday and Sunday would be set aside this year again as visiting days. Parents and friends will be welcome.

Try 'Buddy System'
A new camp system, termed the "buddy system," was inaugurated today for the first time at Camp Rentz. Each camper was assigned a pal for his stay at camp—where the one goes the other must also go. Y authorities have heard strong commendations for the method. Each camp tent will house eight boys, under the direction of one of the counselors.

Decide To Keep Conference Alive

Steering Committee Decides Definitely That Conference Work Must Go On

(International News Service)
LONDON, July 11.—The following communique was issued today after the meeting of the steering committee of the World Economic Conference decided conference work should continue.

"The bureau of the monetary and economic conference met this afternoon under the presidency of Prime Minister MacDonald and unanimously approved the following report received from the drafting committee of the monetary and financial committee as to the future work of that commission:

"The drafting committee appointed by the monetary and financial commission on the tenth of July met today to consider the report of the first and second subcommittee which can draw up a list of questions which can, in the existing circumstances be usefully studied by it.

"It recommends that this monetary and financial subcommittee No. 1 (immediate measures for financial reconstruction) should proceed in the first instance to discussion of the subject of indebtedness.

"Second, monetary and financial subcommittee No. 2 (permanent measures) should take up the resolution already adopted by its subcommittees on central banking cooperation and on the creation of central banks in certain countries where they do not exist and should pursue through its subcommittee the examination of the question of silver and any other subjects on its agenda which may, by general agreement, be considered suitable for discussion."

"The bureau adjourned subject to call."

Ancient civilizations probably weren't destroyed. When the bond issues got too heavy, the people just moved.

Pinchot Answers Probe Committee

Upholds Refusal Of Secretary McCallum To Testify Before Committee

NO DATA WILL BE SUPPRESSED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—If the placing of insurance on the assets of closed banks with certain Pennsylvania insurance agents and brokers "be treason, make the most of it," Gov. Gifford Pinchot said today in support of the refusal of his secretary, Duncan O. McCallum, to testify before the legislative banking committee.

"The placing of insurance has always been considered in Pennsylvania on the same basis as patronage," the governor said. "I think the people of Pennsylvania, as a whole, would prefer me to distribute the few favors within my gift among my friends rather than among the friends of the Martins, the Vares, the Coyne, and the McClaures."

The governor saw "no reason why I, through my secretary, should be submitted to a political grilling for political purposes by politically minded investigators."

Refused To Testify
McCallum refused to honor a subpoena to testify before the committee regarding the alleged existence of a "preferred list" of insurance agents and brokers. Dr. William D. Gordon, secretary of banking, gave the committee a list of 439 individuals that write insurance on closed banks. The list showed that $423,000 of the $480,000 spent on insurance went to 25 agents.

The governor asserted McCallum offered to furnish the investigators with whatever information they desired and that "no one in this office will refuse to give the committee any information it wants."

POLICE OPENS DAMS TO PROVIDE WATER

For a second time in the past two weeks, members of the police force at the direction of Mayor Charles B. Mayne were engaged this morning in opening up and allowing the water impounded by various dams and bathing beach pools in Big Run creek to flow unrestricted, so that an adequate water supply might be available for the New Castle Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company. The plant secures its water supply for steam purposes from Big Run creek at a point near the Moravia street bridge over Big Run. Due to the continued dry weather, the amount of water available at the intake had become so scarce that there was danger of the plant being forced down by the lack of water. The need of water was reported to the mayor and he directed that the action taken be done immediately to prevent and possibility of the plant being forced down.

New Gold Rush In California Is On

Plans Under Way To Reopen Many Gold Mines To Get Precious Metal

State's Annual Output Of Gold Can Be Increased To $40,000,000 Is Belief

By C. N. ALEXANDER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OAKLAND, Cal., July 11.—Scenes reminiscent of the early history of California are being re-acted daily in the Sierra foot-hills due to revival of interest in the California gold mining industry.

Falling off in other lines of business first stimulated gold seeking activity, but an added incentive to hunt for gold was provided when the United States went off the gold standard.

In the past year approximately 700 mining properties have become active in California. Many of these are old properties revived. The figures are from the office of the State Mineralogist.

New Activity
Virtually every mining district in the state is being benefited by the new era of gold mining activity.

During the last 12 months, between 7,000 and 8,000 workers have been added to California mining payrolls and about $3,500,000 has gone into new plant equipment.

From California's producing companies, about $1,700,000 in gold went to the San Francisco mint in 1932 and it is expected that this figure will be exceeded by a large margin this year.

Mining engineers believe that the state's annual output of gold can be increased to $40,000,000 if mining is encouraged.

In the grass Valley-Nevada city district, payrolls have been increased about $36,000 a month in the last three months. Three months ago, the monthly payrolls were estimated at $164,000. Today they are estimated to be $200,000 and still growing.

Many New Locations
Since the first of the year, 56 locations for mining claims have been filed in Nevada county alone. In Tuolumne county, more than 50 important mining operations are under way, operations that employ from five to 25 men each. About 40 of these properties actually are in production.

The mining fever also is stirring up interest in Mariposa county. The Fremont Grant, of 44,000 acres, shut down for many years because of litigation, has been reopened. This grant contains many mines that were good producers before it was shut down.

May Not Accept School Coal Bids

Governmental Action May Affect Price Of Coal For Schools

Due to the unsettled condition of the coal industry at the present time, there appears to be a good chance that no bids for coal will be accepted by the New Castle school board Wednesday night when the board holds its regular monthly meeting. Bids for 4125 tons of coal have been asked for.

The coal dealers of the city will tender bids but every bid will be governed by the proviso that it is subject to any increase made necessary by governmental action. The coal code has not yet been definitely formulated and nobody knows what this will mean. Shorter working weeks, higher wages, these and other provisions will increase the price to the customer it is likely.

All bids submitted will be covered by this proviso according to a member of the Coal Dealers Association. "We have to do this to protect ourselves," said one of the dealers.

On the board's side, such a proviso would be so indefinite that the probabilities are that no bids would be accepted it was said today. "If we have to accept bids now, subject to prices arrived at a month or two months from now, then we had just as well wait until then" was the way it was expressed by one school official today.

Hence it appears likely that bids will be refused until the coal business settles down to the base upon which it will operate under the federal recovery act. Prices of coal now will undoubtedly be raised through the operation of the act, but what the increase will be, nobody knows.

Must Get 20,000 Names On Papers

Candidates For Repeal Convention Delegates Have Big Job On Hands

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—Circulation of petitions of candidates for delegates to the convention that will give Pennsylvania's verdict on proposed repeal of the eighteenth amendment may be started at once. All petitions must be filed with the secretary of the commonwealth not later than September 8.

Both wets and dries have selected slates of 15 candidates each. This, however, is merely organization work which the law does not officially recognize.

The petition of any candidate must contain at least 20,000 names, 2,000 residing in each of ten congressional districts, in order to be considered. Blanks have been prepared on which the names of any candidates not on the regular slates can be inserted.

At least thirty names, therefore, will appear on the ballot November 7, 15 committed to repeal and 15 for retention of prohibition. The voters will elect 15 to attend the convention.

The convention will take place in the senate chamber of the State Capitol on December 5. At that time the successful delegates will formally cast their votes for repeal or retention, although the results of the wet-dry vote actually will be known on election night.

Lieut. Gov. Edward C. Shannon will preside over the convention.

97% MORE MILEAGE

AT 40% LOWER PRICE

Few tire-users in the country can give you mileage figures as accurate as you will get from bus fleets—and the records for thousands of buses all over the country show that Goodyear Tires now average mileages which represent an increase of 97% in the past five years.

97% more mileage than these famous tires gave five years ago—and you can buy Goodyears now at prices which are 40% less than they were five years ago.

Here in plain figures is what you get for your money when you buy Goodyear Tires today.

Where do prices go from here?

Everyone knows that the full power of national leadership is concentrated on putting prices back to the fair levels of prosperous times. Commodity prices have already risen 50% to 100%. Cotton is up 100%—rubber is up 100%. Other prices are bound to follow.

It's just plain common sense to buy tires at today's low prices—and while you are buying, you might as well get the best.

That means Goodyears—the tires that outsell any other tire in the world.

MORE SAFETY at no more cost

You get the safety from skidding of Goodyear center traction—a tread design that stops cars equipped with Goodyear Tires quicker than any other tire. By actual test, the next best tread skids 10% farther—and many tires skid up to 77% farther before they stop.

You get safety from blowouts in every ply—and every ply runs from bead to bead. All Goodyear Tires are built with patented Supertwist cord—which overcomes the destructive effects of heat—and which by actual test will stretch and come back long after ordinary cords break down.

And you get this extra safety from skidding—this extra safety from blowouts—when you buy Goodyears—the world's first-choice tires.

CONFUSION EXISTS ON STATE BEER CONTROL LAW

Many Different Rulings Are Made

Courts In Different Counties Take Opposite Views On License Grants
NO SUPREME COURT RULING IS ASKED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 11.—More than two months after it cleared political entanglements of the General Assembly, Pennsylvania's new beer control law today was still the source of confusion from one end of the state to the other.

The Department of Justice issued a catechism interpreting the act, merely as an "accommodation," and Attorney General William A. Schnader since has adopted a "hands off" policy, declaring flatly in answer to many requests that it is not his duty to advise county officers on questions of law which arise.

Complications have arisen, particularly with respect to the issuance of licenses, and although the act has been tested in the courts the rulings have been contradictory. The confusion today appears destined to continue indefinitely because the supreme court has not been asked to rule.

As a result of varying interpretations by county courts, and the contrary views of county treasurers, citizens in some sections of the state may decide at any time during the year to sell beer and obtain the necessary license. In other parts of the commonwealth, additional establishments are impossible until the new beer year starting next June 1.

This condition prevails in spite of the Department of Justice explanation that licenses may be granted at any time, other requirements of the law, of course, being fulfilled.

Some examples

Two counties, York and Fayette, alone are examples of the lack of uniformity in the administration of the beverage act.

At York, County Treasurer Henry E. Robert refused to issue a license to a Warrington township business man last month. The applicant appealed to the county court and Judge Henry C. Niles upheld the treasurer, ruling that beer licenses were not to be issued after June 1.

Contrary to this, Judge Davis W. Henderson at Uniontown granted County Treasurer Thomas Aubrey the authority to grant beer licenses in Fayette county at any time. Judge M. Ward Fleming, Centre county, however, ruled similarly to Judge Niles.

Wilhelm F. Knauer, special deputy attorney general, issued the beer law catechism last May 23, stating that "except that the attorney general may petition the court in any county to revoke a license, the administration of this law is under the jurisdiction of the several counties." He announced that he was answering a few questions about the act "to promote uniformity."

State Attitude
With respect to the issuance of licenses, Knauer said: "A reasonable interpretation of section 9 and 10 should be given to permit the granting of a license at any time during the year pending the application has been on file at least one week before being granted and payment is made of the license fee for the entire year."

The beverage act, of which Senator John J. McClure is the author, deals with the issue this way: "Every person intending to apply for a distributor's or retailer's license shall file with the treasurer his or its application at least one week before the first day of June."

Despite the justice department's explanation at Harrisburg, the Dauphin county treasurer, a stone's throw from the capitol, declines to abide by it and has discontinued the issuance of licenses. There has been no protest.

Other treasurers have drawn the deadline at will and their varied judgments have not been contested in many cases. In Philadelphia, licenses are still available, while in Allegheny county they are being withheld pending the decision in a test case which is due to be argued next week.

Will Raise Fund For Aid Children

Playground Equipment To Be Provided For Crawford Oak-Ridge Children

With the assistance of the other service organizations of the city the Quota club is sponsoring an ice cream festival Friday evening of this week on the porch of The Cathedral, for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase playground equipment for the children of the Crawford-Oak Ridge Home.

In the case of unfavorable weather, the affair will be held indoors in order that the much needed funds may be secured. It is hoped that the people of this city will respond generously for this cause, as the unfortunate children cared for at the home are at present without the equipment that means so much in the play of the average child. It is desired to give these children the same advantages as others more fortunate and this is the only means of doing so.

The festival will get under way at eight o'clock and all will be served as long as they continue to come. The price is but twenty-five cents and it is believed that there are hundreds in the city who can afford to give this much toward the happiness of the children of Crawford-Oak Ridge Home.

Shorter Hours At Youngstown Mills Means 8000 Jobs

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 11.—In anticipation of the establishment of a 42-hour maximum week in the steel industry, hundreds of new men are hired by the steel mills and are being broken in on the jobs which will be available when the present 48 to 60-hour jobs are reduced to 36 to 42 hours a week.

Hiring of these men is fast reducing the number of unemployed here. It has been estimated that reduction in working hours will mean the placing of 8,000 additional men on the steel mill payrolls, with the industry operating at its present rate, which is above 65 per cent of ingot capacity.

From the big ado some persons make over completing a jigsaw puzzle, you'd think they had found the cure for the depression.

STUDEBAKER HAS BIGGEST JUNE SALES SINCE 1930

Surpasses remarkable gains made in April and May!

SENSATIONAL gains in sales have continued to mark the progress of Studebaker ever since early spring.

Just look at the record.

Studebaker sales for April exceeded March by 86%! May sales surpassed March by 102%!

And now come the startling June figures which show not only a 147% increase over March but a substantial gain over any June in Studebaker history since 1930!

Public demand, after all, is the final proof of the worth of any automobile.

And public demand for the new Automatic Studebakers and the sensational Studebaker-built Rockne took on new proportions immediately following the 500-mile Indianapolis Speedway race on Memorial Day. In that record-breaking event, 7 of the first 12 winners were Studebaker powered... including a five-car team of 85% stock Studebakers which outlasted 28 of America's fastest racing cars and went through the entire contest without a single repair!

Studebaker engineering was never so superior, Studebaker manufacturing facilities were never so adequate, Studebaker workmanship was never so exacting as today when this 81-year-old institution quickens its pace of progress—with 70 millions of net assets and stronger public confidence than it has ever known!

The Studebaker or Rockne that you buy today—with pre-inflation prices still in effect—represents the best motor car value that Studebaker has ever produced. Prove it to your own satisfaction—arrange now for a demonstration drive!

All-Star Game Is Gaining In Public Favor

Likely That Big League Teams Will Play All-Star Game Every Year

WOULD TAKE PLACE AT END OF SEASON

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, July 11.—Of course, it is somebody else's idea in the first place but that's exactly why it ought to be a good thing for baseball, which has no ideas, all told, and is exceedingly proud of it. Anyhow, there is reason to believe that before the end of the week the baseball people will be subjected to a newer and more elaborate plan in connection with an all-star, inter-league game, the original idea having been an admitted success.
The original idea, it may be added, proved a positive pleasure to 40,000 witnesses and hundreds of thousands of listeners and readers and, as a result, was very repugnant to the baseball people. They feel that somehow this should be resented and will guarantee to do so, just as soon as they can figure some good, substantial way to resent the sum of $51,000, which the authorities, overcoming their prejudices, consented to accept at the gate.

Very Good Idea
That sounds as though the project ought to be repeated indefinitely and, if baseball sees it that way, this will be done, although not as a privately-inspired, mid-season ball game. Instead, it would be held back to the eve of the world series, not as a counter attraction in some other city but as a part and a prelude to the series, with the following features:

1. An all-star, inter-league game for which all players, not immediately involved in the world series, are eligible.
2. A baseball field day, open alike to major and minor league entries, thus bringing about something of baseball convention and nationalizing interest.
3. An old timers' game, with the latter getting some part of the receipts, not as a charitable pittance but as an earned reward for efforts shown and results obtained.

In this way, they think they can "step up" the world series with something of the carnival touch of the old county fair, not wholly a second-rate idea, considering that it can't hurt the series and might even help it. In fact, it seems to have a certain merit, which convinces me that baseball, after thinking very deeply, will decide to have none of it.

Legion Of Honor Golfers In Warm Match Monday Eve

Sweezy's Swashbucklers Claim Match By Narrow Margin Of Tenth Of Point

After a great amount of figuring, during which there were several near riots, it was determined that Ches Sweezy's Swashbucklers had nosed out Wilbert Chapman's Cavaliers by the narrow margin of a tenth of a point, in the weekly Legion of Honor match at the Municipal Course last evening.
Russ Melvin neglected to bring along his lightning calculator, and the various attempts by pseudo auditors to figure the score brought a different result. Finally by the process of elimination, it was determined that Sweezy's men had scored a triumph but the margin was so narrow, that it was decided to call it a tie and play the match off next Monday evening.
Commander Drumm of Chapman's team turned in a card of 37 for the nine holes, but after a little detective work, Captain Sweezy learned that Drumm had found the card on the course.
Dr. R. G. Campbell was declared medalist with a 45. Other low scores were turned in by Bennie McCann with a 46; C. E. Allen, 46; and Clare Book, 48. Book's improved play was attributed to the fact that he had played on a number of strange courses during the past week, when he was supposed to be attending the World's Fair and National Educational meeting in Chicago.

Senators Upset By Indians 3-2

Earl Averill Bangs Out Triple In 12th Inning To Score Willie Kamm

YANKEES WIN FROM DETROIT

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 11.—Far be it from us to point a moral and lead to public view such fine old phrases as the one about the long road with out a turning or the no less hoary idea that revenge is sweet, but the fact remains Walter Johnson must have carried around a quizzical, whimsical smile today.
For he led his Cleveland Indians onto his old stamping ground yesterday and they made a brilliant attack to scalp the Washington Senators three to two in 12 innings, giving the man who wasn't good enough for the losers a victory that proved mighty costly to the team battling for a toe-hold on the American League pennant. With the New York Yankees trouncing Detroit, the defeat placed Washington only three games from the front.

Averill Wins Game
As the Senators take on the tough Chicago team this afternoon and the Yankees engage the declasse Browns of St. Louis, the loss may be the start of the final decline and fall of Washington.

We searched all around to discover that Master Walter did a lot of fancy master-minding to eke out the gallant triumph, thus making the Washington magnates drop their eyes in great shame at the thought that they gave the gate to Mr. Johnson. However, it just seemed that Earl Averill trotted to the plate and without any aid at all from the Cleveland brain trust banged out a triple, the shot scoring the long-lived Mr. Kamm with the run that counted most.

A single by Babe Ruth with the Yankees one run behind and the bases filled, sent two runners across the plate and Tony Lameri followed with a homer that gave it to the New Yorkers, 10 to 6. The Tiger infield fell apart in the eighth inning after Lefty Fischer had limited the Yanks to one run. Brown was credited with the hurrying victory.

Ed. Coleman hit a homer in the eighth inning to give Lefty Grove and the Athletics a 3 to 2 snatching from Chicago White Sox. Milt Grove held the A's to three hits as the Sox took the nightcap, 7 to 1.
A homer by Shortt and eight other hits returned St. Louis victor over the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 5. Stiles went the distance for the Browns, allowing the Sox seven safeties.
Freddie Lindstrom, with two out and three on base in the ninth, pitched a single to win, 3 to 2, for Pittsburgh over the Phillies. Holley and French each gave seven hits. The win sent the Pirates into third place in the National circuit, Chicago dropping to fourth.
Other teams were idle.

Trinity Men In Golf Event At Field Club Course

William T. Butz Is Guest Of Honor And Given Birthday Remembrance

Golf meet of the men of Trinity Episcopal Parish under the auspices of the Men's Club of the church was an event of Monday evening at the course of the New Castle Field Club and proved one of the most successful social evenings in the history of the club and the parish.

While announced as a golf event, it proved to be in the form of a surprise in honor of William T. Butz, senior warden of the parish, who today is observing his eightieth birthday anniversary. The part of the evening devoted to honoring Mr. Butz came at the close of the nine hole blind bogey event in which thirty-three men participated.

At the close of the meet, the entire group, numbering some fifty men gathered on the spacious porch of the club and enjoyed a fine lunch after which P. N. Jones, president of the club, assumed chair.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX. MORRISON says
One of the things that cause the high handicap player to boost his score is using a club with too much loft when playing short shots around the green.

I've watched so many players make this mistake.
The only way I can account for it is that they are trying to imitate the expert who really doesn't use such a club for these short pitches. At least not unless he has to.

The extremely lofted clubface requires an almost perfect swing. One that even the good player can't be absolutely sure of making.

Instead of trying to pitch right up to the pin, it's better to assume that you're not going to make a perfect swing and use a straight-faced club for a pitch and run shot.

Monarchs To Play Tigers

West Pittsburgh Meets Mahoning; Orrs Will Tackle Polish

CASTLE FLATS OPPOSES BESSEMER

Indications point to a sharper fight in the second half than there was in the first half of the Lawrence county league. The two leading teams in the first half fight, Tigers and Mahoning have been shellacked and while some fans believe that the final struggle will be between the Mahoning and Tigers they should not feel too certain about it, according to other managers.

The combined Castlewood and Clifton Flats team which plays under the name of Castle Flats at Clifton Flats is a good one. The Polish National Alliance expects to cut a sharp figure in the race and Bessemer would be tickled pink to wallop the Tigers then take a fall out of Mahoning.

West Pittsburgh will get a chance to dump Mahoning today and Orrs will tangle with P. N. A. The Monarchs who surprised fans by beating Mahoning will get a chance to do likewise to the Tigers and Castle Flats will play Bessemer today.

Start at 6:30 P. M.
All of the teams are apparently matched evenly and the games will start at 6:30 p. m. d. s. t. at E. & A. field, Seventh Ward, the P. N. A. field, Lee avenue and at Bessemer. The umpires have been instructed to see that the games start on time.

The teams which have postponed games have been requested to play off the postponed lists as soon as possible but all of the county loop teams will probably lay off Wednesday, unless they wish to play, to see the Universals oppose the Grays at Cent's field.

Thursday Games
On Thursday, Volant, a strong outfit, will tackle the Monarchs on the latter's field and West Pittsburgh will trot to Clifton Flats to play Castle Flats. Orrs will meet the Tigers on Lee avenue and P. N. A. will help entertain fans at Bessemer.

With interest growing by leaps and bounds in the coming fourth game between the Tigers and Mahoning at Centennial field Thursday at 6:15 p. m. D. S. T., the two teams are practicing. It is believed Hur-nick's hand will be mended and P. N. A. recovered.

Steve the reliable southpaw had the misfortune to injure his flinging hand during the third game and Saturday a ball took a bad bounce, struck C. Picarro in the face and five stitches were required to close the wound.

These circumstances coupled to the Grays-Universals independent tilt Wednesday at Cent's field caused the delay in putting the fourth game before the fans. It is believed that possibly 5,000 or more fans will see the game between Tigers and Mahoning.

Fans Heated Up
Some of the fans want to see it so badly that they can scarcely wait to see the set to. They know that the probable pitchers will be Steve Hultnic and Paul McCullough. Both are among the best pitchers in this vicinity.

In the second game at Mahoning's field Hultnic fanned seven in four and a half innings. He allowed two hits, according to the Mahoning scorer. Some fans thought one of the hits should have been all that should have been registered against him.

Steve was steady in the fourth game. His curves broke right and now that he is may pitch the next game the fans are looking forward to not only a great hurrying duel, but a fielding game in which errors will be kept down.

To the unbiased fan, Mahoning looks to have the best fielding team and they do not blow up with the least misplay. The Tigers have been guilty of cracking almost wide open in several games and Mahoning is always quick to take advantage of it.

Ben Jeby Keeps His Title After Terrific Fight

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., July 11.—Ben Jeby of New York is still the middle-weight champion of the world today as far as New York and New Jersey are concerned.

The East Side Hebrew successfully defended his laurels against Young Terry, local boxer, in a hard fought 15-round championship bout at Dreamland Park here last night.

A crowd of about 12,000 turned out for the second battle of the rival middleweights. The paid attendance was $11,554.70.

The popular Trenton battler made things tough for the New Yorker, however, outlasting him in the first round and coming back after taking a severe lacing, to outslug and out-box the champ in the last two rounds.

Muny Women Are Seeking Match

Would Like To Arrange Series Of Matches With Women Of Other Courses

Ladies of the Municipal Golf Course, who are ardent devotees of the game, are seeking to arrange a series of matches with the women players on the other two local courses.

There are a number of fine players among the lady patrons of the Muny course, and they have been coming along nicely with their game this summer. Several of them can give the average male player a run for his money most any day.

Having reached a point of near perfection in their skill, they are anxious to see what they can do against the women from the other courses. Arrangements for a series of matches may be made by communicating with Mrs. Freda Nolan.

HOT AND COOL DAYS, MORE THAN SEASONS, INFLUENCE READERS

Hot and cool days have a decided influence on the book reading activities of New Castle little boys and girls, according to Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian.

On hot days the reading rooms of the city library's juvenile department will be quite deserted, while on the cooler days they are in constant use.

Somewhat of a contradiction to this observation is the fact that the juvenile book circulation does not drop in summer very far below the winter figures.

DR. ROBERT SPEAR ON BIBLE SCHOOL STAFF

Plan To Limit Narcotics Sale

Will Regulate Manufacture And Distribution Of Narcotic In World

NEW AGREEMENT HAS BEEN SIGNED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—By proclamation of President Roosevelt, the United States today was committed to the most important international agreement for the suppression of the drug evil that has ever been signed.

It is the convention for limiting the manufacture and regulating the distribution of narcotic drugs. Its purpose is to limit the manufacture of narcotics to the demands of medicine and science and strike a deadly blow at the illicit traffic in drugs by strict supervision of production and distribution.

It provides for the establishment of a bureau for international supervision of the drug traffic, under which all nations will announce their medical and scientific needs in narcotics. Manufacture will be restricted to the total figure required. Importing nations may purchase their supplies wherever they please, under competitive conditions, but they must supply the international bureau with a public statement of their requirements and restrict the latter to medicinal and scientific needs.

Slightly OffStrength In Grains Come To Support Of Reactionary
Stock MarketPROFIT-TAKING
SLOWS MARKET(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 11.—Strength in grains came to the support of a reactionary stock market today as a burst of profit-taking drove the list down 1 to 2 points in heavy trading which put the ticker 4 minutes behind.

Selling was augmented by a brisk rally in the dollar. With Sterling down 5 cents to $4.75 cents and other foreign currencies suffering sizeable losses, the dollar recovered to around 70 cents gold compared with yesterday's low of 68 cents.

Rye continued the star of commodities, opening up nearly 3 cents a bushel higher after yesterday's sensational rise. Wheat, corn and oats rose a cent a bushel and more, reflecting the tremendous damage reported in the government crop survey. Cotton was easy while bonds were mixed.

Losses in stocks ran from 1 to 2 points before sufficient buying was attracted to stem the decline. The heaviest pressure was apparent on the rails, industrials and motors. A rally from the lows developed on the bullish opening in grains but losses continued substantially.

Utilities gave the best performance, firming up to around the previous close after an early dip. The aviation list also was relatively steady. A few special issues, particularly American Rolling Mills, Endicott Johnson and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, ignored the rest of the list and displayed independent strength.

Liquor stocks gave ground after yesterday's fast run-up. Coppers and oils were sluggish while the gold stocks weakened on the Washington report the administration was opposed to permitting export of the yellow metal.

Railroad traffic for last week was down due to the holiday though substantially above 1932. Carrier shares, however, were under pressure as a result of their extensive rise though meeting support on the decline.

Farm stocks rallied with grains. U. S. Steel was heavily sold despite the big gain in its June unfilled orders. American Telephone held steady. Radio started with a 20,000 share block at a loss of more than a point and rallied only fractionally later. Tobacco was steady and the Amusement issues gave up only part of yesterday's upturn.

AT POST OFFICETHURSDAY, August 10 will be one of the most memorable days in the history of Ellwood City if plans of local organizations live up to expectations. It will be Community Day here at which time a number of special events will occur.
Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock representatives from the local American legion, merchants, Historical society, and interested citizens met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to formulate plans for this celebration which is to rival the great Community Day picnics sponsored by the local National Tube company several years back.

The tentative program includes a parade to be held in the morning. Then at 11 o'clock the corner stone of the new post office will be laid with special ceremony. The building is rapidly nearing completion. The third assistant postmaster general has been invited to deliver the principal address on this occasion. The Hon. J. Howard Swick is also expected to be present on the occasion. The local Legion at Ellwood City will render a number of selections during the program.

All the stores in the city will close at noon on this occasion so that the merchants and their families may participate in the day's events. There will also be one or two baseball games during the day. In the afternoon all will go to the picnic grove in Lewis park where the athletic field where a special sports program will be carried out. Prizes will be awarded for this. The new car to be given away by the local merchants will be raffled off at 5:30 p. m.

In the evening, after dark, there will be a Bugle and Drum corps competition at Lincoln field under flood lights in which nearly all American Legion Drum corps of the district will participate. There will be a detail of the State Highway patrol to aid local officials in handling the crowds and direct traffic in the city on this occasion.

Another meeting is to be held at the same place on next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The meeting is open to all. Local Civic clubs are especially urged to have representatives present.

Hard Fight Lost
By Joey EvansKid Richards Gets Nod Over Local Champion At Butler Amateur ShowELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—Joey Evans of this city and Beaver Valley Golden Glove champion lost what is believed by a majority of fans, a questionable decision to Kid Richards of Kittanning in an amateur fight show staged at the Athletic Field, Butler, Pa., last evening.
Evans was up against a tough opponent and gave a splendid account of himself. His uppers and right hooks sent the Kittanning youth to the floor in every round, even twice in the final round. Evans went down only once, and for no count. The fight was replete with action with both boys willing to mix it.It was quite a surprise when the judges awarded the decision to Richards. The two youths fought at 122 pounds.
Manager Dave Heisner and John Toth announced this morning that they have entered two of their boys, Evans and Ray Atkinson, in a four-flood fight to be staged at tomorrow night. Atkinson is 144 pound Golden Glove champion of the district.Tax Collector Is Named By Board

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—The most important business matter transacted at the regular July meeting of the North Sewickley township school board held in the Locust Grove schoolhouse was the appointment of Lave Butler as tax collector to succeed Charles Brandenberg, who recently resigned. His bond was accepted and approved by the board members and the new tax duplicate has been turned over to Mr. Butler.

The matter of exonerations for personal taxes was deferred until a later date and the names on this lists will be considered as to their ability to pay as the working conditions improve in the township.

School In WayneMatter Discussed At Meeting Of Tax Justice League
Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, July 11.—Public sentiment in Wayne township seems in favor of building a high school. Much interest and enthusiasm was evinced at the regular meeting of the Tax Justice League of Wayne Township held last evening in the basement of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church with a majority of members in attendance.

Wayne township is one of the few school districts in the state that has succeeded in balancing their budget each year and they have no indebtedness. The budget shows that it costs more to send their students to high school at Ellwood City than all the other expenditures of the grade schools of the township including transportation, light, heat, supplies and teachers salaries. Owing to this fact they feel that this is the logical time for this improvement which would be an economy to the taxpayers.

Plans are being drawn up by a local architect and will be submitted to the Federal Department of public improvement in order that a loan might be secured from the government to finance this project at a 4 per cent interest rate in accordance with the proposed financing of public improvements as an aid to employment.

The voting precinct committee composed of Clem Boyer and Sharp Johns reported that they had submitted a petition to the court to have the four voting precincts of the township made into one precinct centrally located. This precinct would be in the basement of the Matheny school house on the Wampum road.
It was voted to change the regular meeting night from second Monday to the third Monday of each month. Frank Coleman was appointed chairman of an advertising committee for the next meeting in an effort to have every taxpayer present in order that all may understand the proposed building of a high school.Mrs. H. J. Myers

All Is Set For Baptist Picnic

Expect Big Crowd At Cascade
Park Thursday Evening
At Annual Event

French Johnston's class has issued a challenge to George Fox's class, thus guaranteeing success for the old fashioned basket picnic planned for July 13 at Cascade Park by the First Baptist Sunday school.

The committees report that everything is "in the bag" and that all they need is a great big hungry crowd—and they are not worrying over-much about no one attending. If history really does repeat itself, the crowd will be a huge one.

Dinner will be at 6:30 p. m. Refreshments are in charge of Mrs. W. O. Williams and her class. That very best lemonade for which Misses Irene Perry, Julia Zolten and Mrs. Germack are famous, will be on the menu. D. S. Williams will be giving aid where it is needed. Paul Pombelle and Manning Weller are in charge of transportation, while sports will be in charge of Adrian Heaton, Thomas Artherill, Danny Williams, Ralph Hay and Stanley Davis.

Why shouldn't man alone endow his young with the ability to think? He alone leaves his young problems that require it.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

If somewhere in the New Deal, somebody could find a hat full of rain or maybe two, it might help considerably. Crops that started the summer with a moist foundation are dry clear to the toes, and in many cases it won't be necessary to have an arbitrary reduction in crops. Dame Nature will take care of that.

It's been great weather for ripening wheat. Out through Lawrence county the golden sheaves are standing like the pictures you used to get on those primary grade Sunday school cards. But the same sun that ripened the wheat is burning the corn, and the usual heavy crops one is accustomed to seeing in this county are not there this year.

We were sitting around the lunch table and the talk was on the stock market. One gentleman was very unhappy, not because he had lost a bundle, although he had, but because his wife had made a cleaning and was rubbing it in.

Seems she had one hundred dollars not so long ago, which hundred made a sizeable roll, (that is I suppose it makes a sizeable roll). The lady decided to plunge in the market and loaded up with 100 shares of a stock that was selling then for 75 cents per share.

The boom picked the stock up a few weeks ago and carried it to 7½, whereupon she unloaded her stock, bought a new car, and still has some money left. Now she wonders why her husband doesn't do the same thing on a large scale.

You've heard of pearls in oysters, but this is the first time we ever heard of pearls in bass. Eddie Fritz, Jr., leads the league for fish stories this season with a pearl the size of a pea which he got in a bass he caught on the Neshaunock. And the story is true in case you happen to doubt it.

With some companions he was fishing out near Volant, with more than ordinary luck. One after another bass was laid out on the bank, but one beauty seemed to stand out more than any of the others. Cleaning the bass the youngster found what appeared to be a pearl similar to those sometimes found in oysters and his father brought it down to a jeweler to find whether or not it was.

The jeweler pronounced it a pearl and now the question is whether to set it in a ring or a pin.

Just how a pearl would be formed in a bass is a question for the experts, certainly not for this column. Pearls in oysters and clams are explained but there appears to be no reason for them in bass. Whether the bass swallowed an oyster and dissolved the shell, or some fisherman lost pearl and the bass ate it, you can figure out for yourself. But the fact is the youngster got the pearl in the bass.

It's a long time to Thanksgiving but you can't stop a fellow's imagination. Looked at a flock of Thanksgiving dinners the other afternoon out in Slippery Rock Township. The Shaffers out that way specialize in turkeys and just now have 750 or more of the gobblers starting their way up to somebody's dinner table.

A very delicate bird, the American turkey, and one requiring a lot of attention. Our favorite attention is a knife and fork and a spot of seasoning. With a side order of white meat.
